Dear Raras,

On this day, in the middle of the afternoon, I took a tour of your warehouse and I am extremely impressed.

While I cannot consider myself to be an expert in warehousing, it is quite obvious that your attention to detail has created a very safe environment for the warehouse workers. In addition, the way in which the goods are organized allows worker-operators to quickly locate goods for shipment.

Even though the outside temperature is 31°, the warehouse feels cool due to the airflow systems.

The multistacking units are very efficient and the equipment used to elevate and reach drums and pallets at the higher levels is state-of-the-art.

All in all, this has been a great visit and a great experience. Yourself and your friendly warehouse staff should be very proud of your efforts in assembling this jewel of the Indian Flower & Fragrance Industry: The Aryan/Ashapura Warehouse is state-of-the-art!
